Missions and Ministry from Millennial Perspectives
Xennials were born in the late 1970s through the early 1980s. Millennials were born between early 1980s and 2000. They make up 25% of the US population, expend more than $1 trillion in discretionary disbursements, are likely to be early adopters of technologies, and desire to travel abroad. How churches address issues like vision and values, excellence and equality, culture and community and insularity and openness may impact the ability for pastors and congregations to connect successfully. Millennial and Xennial pastoral leaders will coach and challenge us to imagine the possibilities for meaningful missions and ministry among millennials and xennials.

Conversations around Transitions
Lott Carey is entering a season of transition in its executive office. We have enjoyed more than two decades of innovative global witness since calling Dr. David Emmanuel Goatley to serve as the Executive Secretary-Treasurer in November 1996. He has accepted the invitation to serve as Research Professor of Theology and Black Church Studies and Director of the Office of Black Church Studies at Duke University Divinity School to nurture a new generation of pastors and scholars for the church. We rejoice in this new call of service and look forward what the Lord has in store for all of us. You are invited to hear about the process for transition and to help imagine the gifts of leadership we should seek for our next executive leader.

Lott Carey Strategic Priorities for 2017 – 2022

The Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Society was organized in 1897 by African-American Baptists who were committed to missions in Africa with intentionality and integrity. Today, Lott Carey helps churches to extend the Christian witness throughout the world. We come alongside indigenous leadership globally through ministries of evangelism, compassion, empowerment, and advocacy with prayer partnership, financial support and technical assistance. Together, we are touching lives with transforming love.

Lott Carey Strategic Priorities are to:

1. Strengthen global partnership impact
2. Heighten brand awareness
3. Expand depth and breadth of church participation
4. Strengthen youth engagement (Children and Youth)
5. Widen young adult involvement (Millennials and Xennials)
6. Provide missions education and leadership training
   (congregational, pastoral and seminary)
7. Fortify organizational strength
